

Ordering PrEP on-line

The state of play

- Truvada is not licensed in Australia for PrEP (or for PEP, for that matter!)
- The use of Truvada for PrEP is off-licence
- Gilead has submitted an application to the TGA to licence Truvada for PrEP
- In the interim, Truvada may be purchased at full-price (about $1000 per month) in Australia, or purchased online from overseas...

“But, is it legal?”

- The TGA allows individuals to import drug for their own usage
 - Common practice in the old days of HIV with ‘buyer’s clubs’
 - Still common nowadays with Viagra, Cialis, oestradiol, etc.
- A valid prescription is required

TGA regulations

- Subject to satisfying various conditions a person may import a 3 month supply (at the maximum dose recommended by the manufacturer) of an unapproved medicine without any prior approval required by the TGA
- Medicines ordered over the internet require an Australian-issued prescription from your doctor. To purchase or import a generic version of Truvada into Australia, a person must first get a valid Australian-issued prescription to accompany the medicine being imported

“How do I know it is real drug?”

- This is a common concern
- Try to stick to well-known websites
- The website we use has supplied drug for many HIV-positive individuals in Cairns
 - They remain undetectable on these antiretrovirals over many years...

“How do I order online?”

- Go to <http://www.aids-drugs-online.com/>
 - Follow the directions, or
- Go to the HIV Foundation Qld website and follow our step-by-step instructions...
- The cost for 3 months’ supply is A$313.36
- It is recommended to follow CDC PrEP guidelines
 - 3-monthly HIV and STI testing (as per STIGMA Guidelines)

Great state. Great opportunity.
